Under the Tunney act, I would like to voice my displeasure with the proposed Microsoft settlement. I strongly believe that the proposed remedies do not adequately address the issues, and are not in the best interests of the public.

As a particular example, there is nothing in the judgement that would require Microsoft to document network protocol of WMT streaming media; without this, there is no chance for any competing company to write an application that could work on an alternative platform.

I would also like to add my support to the comments made by Dan Kegel at <http://www.kegel.com/remedy/letter.html> .

Sincerely,
